NFT minting

Minting NFT refers to the process of turning a digital file into a crypto collectible or digital asset. Our advance technology will allow for the minting pronncess to take place directly on our platform and store the minted meme. This process turns a simple file into a crypto asset easily traded or bought with $BIMBI on our digital market place (coming soon)

In the NFT sphere, one previously ignored issue is intellectual property ("IP") law. . The copyright and all associated IP rights belong to the creator of the work, but some or all of those rights can be assigned or transferred to any subsequent purchaser of the work.

The platform will allow artist to mint a single peace of art or a full collection.

The technology will allow for viewing the minted artwork by online visitors and traders, however it may not be downloaded for sharing.
